

PERSONAL PORTFOLIO ASSIGNMENT

Code for the portfolio

A screenshot of a code editor displaying the main CSS file for a portfolio. The file includes meta tags for charset and viewport, a title, and links to Google Fonts and a custom CSS file. It defines a global style for the root element and a body with a sans-serif font, a radial gradient background, and a subtle noise effect. The code editor interface shows the file path, line numbers, and various status indicators.

A screenshot of a code editor displaying the CSS file for the hero section of the portfolio. It includes styles for the main section, the hero container (flexbox), the hero h1 (font size, weight, line height, letter spacing), the hero span (background gradient, text fill color), the hero p (max width, muted color, font size), the cta (display flex, gap, margin-top), and the button (padding). The code editor interface shows the file path, line numbers, and various status indicators.

OUTPUT

A screenshot of the same portfolio website, specifically the "Core Skills" section. It features six cards arranged in two rows of three. The top row contains cards for "Programming", "AI / ML", and "Product Building". The bottom row contains cards for "Marketing &amp; Growth", "Communication", and "Leadership". Each card has a title, a brief description, and a small circular icon. The "Programming" card includes icons for Java, C, C++, and JavaScript. The "AI / ML" card includes icons for machine learning and AI. The "Product Building" card includes icons for a factory and a gear. The "Marketing &amp; Growth" card includes icons for Instagram and a bar chart. The "Communication" card includes icons for a person and a speech bubble. The "Leadership" card includes icons for a team and a checkmark. The browser's address bar shows the URL "127.0.0.1:5500/VedantThakker_125_portfolio.html".

The screenshot shows a dark-themed website for Vedant Thakker. At the top, there are two sections: 'Communication' (clear, persuasive, high-impact communication across tech, business, and people) and 'Leadership' (University social media teams, event marketing, initiative-driven execution). Below these is a section titled 'Journey So Far' featuring a vertical timeline with three purple dots. The first dot is associated with 'BTech CS (AI & ML)' and describes building a strong base in computer science, systems, and machine intelligence. The second dot is associated with 'University Marketing & Media' and describes leading social media campaigns, content strategy, and event promotions. The third dot is associated with 'Builder Phase' and describes working on trading systems, AI tools, startup ideas, and portfolio projects.

This screenshot shows the same website as above, but with a prominent purple navigation bar at the top. The bar contains icons for GitHub, LinkedIn, and a mail icon, along with a search bar and other browser controls. The main content area below the bar is identical to the first screenshot, featuring the 'Journey So Far' section with its timeline and three experience cards.
